

University of South China

The University of South China is a comprehensive university jointly established by the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology, the Bureau of Science, Technology and Industry for National Defense, China National Nuclear Corporation, China National Nuclear Corporation and the Hunan Provincial People's Government. The school was established by the merger of Central South Institute of Technology and Hengyang Medical College, and the Sixth Institute of Nuclear Industry was merged into it. It is a university supported by the National Central and Western University Basic Capacity Building Project, and is an outstanding engineer and excellent doctor education and training program unit approved by the Ministry of Education.

Enrollment majors

International economy and trade, cross-border e-commerce, big data and accounting, hotel management and digital operations, cultural creativity and planning

Here is the translation of the text into English:

Application Materials

1. Applicants must be non-Chinese nationals, at least 18 years old, hold a valid foreign passport, be in good health, have good moral character, and be willing to abide by the laws, regulations of China, and the rules of Nanhua University.
2. A scanned copy of the passport information page with at least one year of validity remaining.
3. A scanned copy of the "Foreign Physical Examination Record" completed within the past six months. Applicants must strictly follow the required items in the "Foreign Physical Examination Record".
4. A scanned copy of the no-criminal-record certificate issued within the past six months. The certificate must include a photo of the applicant and a seal on the photo.
5. A financial proof showing at least $6,000 USD.